the diplomatic advisory group

WHO WE ARE

ID is an independent organization, not connected to any government or international institution. ID is supported by a mix of donor contributions and client fees.

ID only helps those who support democracy, human rights, and the rule of law.

ID's advice is driven solely by the needs of its clients. ID has no political agenda of its own: it works to help its clients get their needs met.

OUR WORK

ID offers a comprehensive suite of services in areas key to effective diplomacy, including:

- Political analysis
- Diplomatic technique
- International law
- Media strategy

WHAT WE DO

Independent Diplomat (ID) aims to promote justice and conflict resolution by enabling governments and political groups disadvantaged or marginalized by lack of capacity to engage effectively in diplomatic processes.

ID provides independent and confidential advice and assistance in diplomatic technique and strategy to governments, political groups, international institutions and non-governmental organizations.

ID provides clear, practical and effective counsel to those facing complex international and political challenges to help them achieve their international objectives.

ID has projects currently underway in Africa, Asia and Europe; a project to improve the effectiveness of the UN Security Council and an initiative to assist small island states in global climate change negotiations.

MEDIA INQUIRIES

Comprised of experienced former diplomats and other international relations experts, ID's staff is available for background briefings and press interviews. Once members of powerful governments and institutions, they now work on the "other side of the table." Their commentary is knowledgeable, incisive and witty. Their expertise ranges from current business at the United Nations or European Union, to areas of conflict, such as Somalia and Sudan, to the ongoing climate change negotiations.
