Independent Diplomat is delighted to announce the appointment of Søren Jessen-Petersen to head ID's new office in Washington DC from January 2008.

Søren Jessen-Petersen has enjoyed a long and distinguished career as an international civil servant, working with the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, the European Union and the United Nations Secretariat. He is the former Special Representative of the UN Secretary-General in Kosovo (2004-2006) and a former Assistant High Commissioner at UNHCR headquarters in Geneva (1998-2001) in which capacity he headed all UNHCR operations. He served as the European Union Special Representative in Macedonia from February to June 2004. He will take up his new post for Independent Diplomat in January 2008.

With our DC office, Independent Diplomat will have a presence in four major international diplomatic centres (Washington, New York, London and Brussels). We have plans to establish further offices, covering other diplomatic centres, in 2008.
